CLEVELAND MAN TO STAND TRIAL HERE

Hearing of the suit against Frank Krussel of Cleveland by David Spector of Brunswick for violation of the state speed laws was held before Justice of Peace Ainsworth Monday afternoon, and resulted in Krussel being bound over to the grand jury under a bond of $100, which was promptly furnished.

The case is an outgrowth of an auto collision on the center road east of Brunswick on July 3, when machines driven by Krussel and Spector came together, both cars being put out of commission and the occupants slightly injured.

Almost simultaneous with the filing of the suit against Krussel, the latter's wife brought action in the Cleveland courts against Spector for $25,000 damages for alleged injuries sustained at the time of the collision, in which she states that Spector's fiancée was driving the Spector car, her inexperience causing her to become confused and to turn the car into the path of Krussel's car. Spector and his lady friend, Lily Warhof of Cleveland, also a sister, Eva Spector, who were the occupants of Spector's car, deny that Miss Warhof was driving. They testified that Krussel was driving at a reckless rate of speed and made no attempt to turn out until within a few feet of Spector's car.

The Sectors were represented by F. W. Woods and Krussel by Attorney Miller of Cleveland.

ELECTION MIX-UP IN WADSWORTH

Two Republican Candidates Claim the Nomination for Mayor.

MANY MEDINA VOTERS BALLOT FOR WOMEN

Local Democrats Drift in at Polls During Day in Attempt to Make Showing.

The biennial August farce, or more commonly known as the municipal primary election, as predicted, passed off in Medina with all the solemn stillness of a summer night. The four election booths gave out sepulchral tones for most of the day, excepting at the remote intervals when the few stalwarts invaded to avail themselves of their elective rights, or the explosion of a match betokened the extinguishment of the pipe of a judge or clerk.

But in Wadsworth enough noise and excitement prevailed, and does yet, to offset the painful lack of sound and fury at home.

The trouble came through the contest for the mayoralty. The present incumbent, F. W. Boyer, Republican, had as a party opponent for the nomination J. C. Whitlam. The friends of both men were active in their behalf all day. When the ballots were counted, the summary sheets disclosed a victory for Whitlam by a difference of 14 votes.

Not satisfied with the count, Boyer retains Attorney Frank Woods to represent his interests before the election board at Medina and Whitlam follows suit with Attorney Sadler of Wadsworth.

When the election board counted and tallied the ballots Wednesday morning they found a shortage of seven ballots in Boyer's favor and other discrepancies that would give the election to Boyer by two votes. The difference arose over the votes in Precinct E.

At first the board of elections expressed the opinion that they had no choice in the matter but to decide according to their finding. But when they expressed this opinion it called forth all the latent energy that Attorney Sadler could conjure in which he declared that the board had no right to determine the validity of certain ballots where there was a clearly drawn issue to the question.

At this juncture the board asked the attorneys to withdraw while the former discussed the matter in executive session, in which Prosecutor Seymour participated.

Thursday morning it was decided by the board to refer the case to the Department of State for adjudication.

In Medina all members of the present Republican council were nomi-

1921 CHAUTAUQUA BEGINS TOMORROW

Everything Set for Presentation of Initial Attraction.

SALE OF TICKETS PROCEEDING WELL

The Week's Program Made Up of High Class Concerts, Lectures and Other Entertainments.

The annual seven-day session of Redpath Chautauquas opens tomorrow, Friday, August 12, in Medina at the high school grounds for its program of varied and excellent features in music, comedy, magic, opera, lecture and science which offers the best in education and inspiration.

Supt. F. M. Whitney who has acted as Redpath manager in Medina in past years, arrived Wednesday from Galion with his crew and equipment and erected the big auditorium on the school grounds.

Ticket canvassers have been busy since Saturday morning in Medina and vicinity and report that the guarantee of 700 season tickets has about been reached. Tickets are on sale in the stores and can be secured at the grounds from the committee cheaper than from the ticket office.

Mansfield, Bucyrus and Galion patrons of the seven-day Redpath Chautauqua are enthusiastic over this season's program as offering a balanced course with many features. New York casts are offered in the opera Pinafore and in the comedy "Nothing But the Truth." Miss Eleanor Boardman, widely photographed Eastman Kodak girl, has the lead in the comedy which is said to be the cleanest, funniest and most wholesome theatrical laugh that Broadway has produced in many seasons.

But the old and ever popular light opera "Pinafore," Redpath is presenting a New York cast of 22 people with special scenery, an orchestra and elaborate costuming. The music and the clever comedy of this satire on the English navy is always good, and patrons will want to see it Tuesday.

On the opening night Edwin Whitney, a versatile entertainer and reader from Boston and a previous visitor in Medina, will read the comedy so full of optimism and fun, "In Walked Jimmie." Mr. Whitney has read the "Fortune Hunter" and "Turn to the Right" in past seasons and is now scoring successes with this play with 12 characters in whose presentation and impersonation he uses no scenery or costumes.

On Wednesday evening, August 17, Eugene Laurant, the premier magician in America and for 15 years a performer for Redpath circuits, will give his three acts of scientific demonstration, big illusions, clever magic and lightning impersonations. He has three assistants and carries an equipment valued at $4,000. Laurant is possessed of a pleasing personality and for two hours puzzles and delights his audiences with spectacular ensemble and single numbers.

Music lovers of Medina will have many treats during the week, both of instrumental and vocal programs and the closing number by the Proctor-Stolofsky Concert Company is said by some Ohio newspaper critics to be worth the price of the season ticket. Irene Stolofsky is the leading young woman violinist of the country and is a Columbian artist. Proctor is a pleasing tenor who has had many successful tours. They are accompanied by William Janasek, who was pianist for Elsie Janis on her A. E. F. tour during the war.

On the opening day a sextet of young ladies composing the European Artists will give a popular concert of vocal and instrumental numbers featuring concert, cello, saxophone, violin and piano. They prelude Mr. Whitney's reading in the evening.

Saturday night, August 13, the Fisher Operatic Company will present sketches in costume from the familiar operas and with their splendid voices offer an attractive number.

The New York Brass Choir will entertain Monday afternoon and evening with a distinctive concert for brass instruments. They appear with Judge Kavanaugh for a prelude in the evening. In music the light opera also adds greatly to the week.

A notable lecture list will bring

COUNTY SWIPED BY BAD STORM

Barns Upset, Burned, Groves Demolished, Cemeteries Wrecked.

LIGHTNING STUNNED TWO GRANGER MEN

Storm the Most Widespread and Devastating that Has Visited Medina in Years.

One of the most violent storms that has invaded this region in a long time passed over the northeastern half of Medina county last Saturday night about 5:30 o'clock, grazing Medina village, and carrying destruction in its wake.

The storm appears to have been far reaching in its scope, devastating territory for miles beyond Cleveland along the lake shore.

Much damage was reported in the vicinity of Strongsville, and approach ing this way it blew a barn off its foundation on the Smith farm east of Stony hill; uprooted or otherwise destroyed nearly a thousand trees in the maple grove of Irwin Wilkinson in Hinkley; upset tombstones and broke down trees in the cemetery at Bennett's Corners, and unroofed the store.

In Brunswick the big orchard of Richard Fritz was nearly destroyed, besides several large trees in the front yard were blown down. The top of the barn on Calvin Brant's farm was displaced, and on the farm of George Strong the shingles were torn from the house, several trees uprooted, and a large shed blown several feet from its foundation.

At Remsen's Corners the barn of Seth Dean was struck by lightning and burned to the ground.

In Granger lightning struck the barn of L. H. Renner, knocking down Mr. Renner and Harry, also several cows. Neither of the Renners was injured, nor the barn destroyed.

In Medina from the covered bridge east for a couple of miles no less than thirty-seven telephone poles on the Ohio State Telephone Co.'s line were snapped off like pipe stems, delaying service in that direction until the following day, when a temporary cable was placed in operation.

The storm was made up of the combined elements of wind, rain and electricity, during the height of which the barn of Homer Watkins, about sixty rods west of Fenn's Corners, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The building was a new one and the mow filled with hay which also was consumed. The stables not having been finished the live stock were not in the barn at the time. The Medina fire department responded with its chemical apparatus, but arrived too late to be of any service other than protecting the dwelling and other farm buildings from the burning barn. A huge stack of straw not far from the barn was destroyed. The barn was insured.

GORED BY BULL

Bert Roth, residing about a mile south of Sharon Center, was attacked by one of his bulls last Friday, the animal goring one of Roth's arms and breaking his shoulder in two places. His condition is reported as improving.

FIREMEN'S BIG DAY WEDNESDAY

Departments From Eight Cities Coming.

CLEVELAND VETS GUESTS OF HONOR

Event the Annual Convention of the Lorain County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

No town on earth will be better protected against fire than Medina will be next Wednesday, Aug. 17, when the fire departments from seven cities will be here to join with the local department in festivities incident to the annual convention of the Lorain County Volunteer Firemen's association.

This association has been in existence for a great many years and the annual conventions and get-together of the laddies is looked forward to each year with increasing eagerness.

Chief W. F. Wise of the Medina department is busy rounding things up for the big event, and predicts the most successful convention held in some time. He urges that the people of Medina turn out en masse next Wednesday, not only in deference to the visiting firemen, but to gain a better idea of what the fire boys are doing all the time to increase their efficiency.

The program of the day will begin with a business session at the Princess theater at 9 a. m. Luncheon time will be from 12 to 12:45. The parade will form promptly at 1:30 on the north and east sides of the public square in the following order:

Cleveland veterans in autos; Cleveland's first fire apparatus of 1843; the Barberton Ladies' band; the volunteer fire departments from the following cities: Amherst, Elyria, Huron, Lorain, Oberlin, Wellington, Vermillion, Medina. Between the departments of Lorain and Oberlin will be stationed the Medina Band.

The line of march will be down South Court street to Smith Road, east to Broadway, north to Washington, east to Jefferson, west to Broadway, north to Friendship, west to North Court street, south to Washington, west to Elmwood, north to Liberty, east to Broadway, and around the public square.

Contests will be held on West Washington street, the various events and respective prizes noted as follows:

One hundred yard dash, for firemen: first prize $5; second prize, $2.50.

Fifty yard dash, for ladies: first prize, $3; second prize, $2; third prize, $1.

Chiefs' 50-yard dash: first prize, $5. Hose race: first prize, $25; second prize, $15.

Water fight: first prize, $25; second prize, $10.

The Ladies' Band of Barberton will give concerts in the park both afternoon and evening.

GROWING MILK SURPLUS TO BRING LOWER PRICE

Present indications are that there will be a surplus of milk in the Cleveland territory for many months to come. However, daily we hear of producers who are increasing their herd. Every increase in the number of cows producing milk for this market will undoubtedly result in a corresponding decrease in the price of milk.

Surplus during 1922 will be based in the average shipments during the last six months of 1921. If however, the basic milk thus determined exceeds the demand for whole milk the basic amount will be cut to meet the demands. Thus if in March, 1922, the demand is only equal to 80 per cent. of the basic milk as fixed by the shipments for the six months, then each shipper will be allowed only 80 per cent of the basic amount.

August prices for milk all over the country are practically the same as July. The future prices depend absolutely on production and consumption.

Producers declare that production will never become profitable until a large per cent. of the farmers know more about the cost of production. That there is a very great need for cow-testing associations in Ohio, nearly every herd having some cows producing at a loss.
